passion poison often makes fools of clever men sometimes even makes clever men of fools la rochefoucauld this book represents a pioneering work dealing exclusively with poi sons in the hands of the murderer tamperer and terrorist one of the oldest offensive killing weapons developed by humanity after the stick stone and fist were the poisons yet after nearly 5000 years of recorded history i no in depth work has ever been produced dealing exclusively with poisons as weapons for homicide the author s review of the international literature has revealed only a few scattered scientific papers dealing with the psychology of the poisoner and books on medical jurisprudence and forensic investigation have devoted only a few pages to this important subject usually stating that it is a rare occurrence how do we know the true rarity of the use of poisons for homicide all one has to do is look at the number of poisonings that are first documented only after the exhumation of the deceased to raise the logical question if we missed this one how many more have been missed if all those buried in our cemeteries who had been poisoned could raise their hands we would probably be aghast at the numbers for years the homicidal poisoner has remained shrouded in mystery this book represents the first anthropological ethnography of ikea consumption and goes to the heart of understanding the unique and at times frantic popularity of this one iconic transnational store based on a year of participant observation in stockholm s kungens kurva store the largest in the world this book places the retailer squarely within the realm of the home building efforts of individuals in stockholm and to a lesser degree in dublin ikea the world s largest retailer and one of its most interesting is the focus of intense popular fascination internationally yet is rarely subject to in depth anthropological inquiry in unpacking ikea garvey explores why ikea is never just a store for its customers and questions why it is described in terms of a cultural package as everyday and classless using in depth interviews with householders over several years this ethnographic study follows the furniture from the ikea store outwards to probe what people actually take home with them
